A S-Kimos winter day

From December to April, the emphasis is on skiing, either downhill, cross-country or backcountry, and après-skiing! A cook is hired to provide breakfast and dinner.

- Go down to the kitchen, order breakfast and grab a coffee
- Check the latest weather on the TV
- Catch up with other Skimos in the dining hall to see where they are skiing
- Go skiing. Wildcat, Sunday River and Attitash, Jackson XC or Glen Trails
- Come back in late afternoon for après-skiing: go to the EICSL afternoon party, visit the Wildcat Tavern, drop into the Jack Frost ski shop for equipment or a tune-up, or hang out by the fireplace at the S-Kimos lodge
- Have dinner at the S-Kimos, or go out to one of the local restaurants
- After dinner, trade skiing stories around the fireplace, go to the EISCL evening party, or head over to the Wildcat Tavern
- Go to bed and do it again the next day!

A S-Kimos summer day

Spring, summer and fall are fun and casual. The house is less busy, so it's like having your own vacation home in the White Mountains!

- Make your own breakfast, or go out for breakfast in the village
- Hike, golf, bike, or kayak
- Go for a refreshing dip at Jackson Falls; sit out on the sunny porch with a cold drink (you are expected to wave at the people who drive by the house!)
- Put something on the BBQ for dinner or head out to a local restaurant
- After dinner, socialize on the porch, go to the Wildcat Tavern for live music, and plan the next day's activities

Additional club activities, such as a canoe trip, a Lobster dinner and biking trips are planned on certain summer weekends.
